Wilmington girl killed

Two accidents on Lowell Street

Midnight accidents on two consecutive nights on Lowell Street have resulted in the death of a Wilmington girl and injuries to four other people.

Seventeen year old Patricia Lee Gangi of 27 Chestnut St., Wilmington died in a fiery crash near Avco on Sunday night. She was traveling alone in a Ford van owned by her father. The van left the road, hit a tree and burst into flames. Attempts by firefighters to rescue her were in vain.

On Monday night, a stolen car being chased by Reading Police was involved in an accident near Lucci's Market. Four people were hospitalized.

The car, a 1972 Ford Torino wagon, was headed westbound on Lowell Street, shortly after midnight. At Lucci's it crossed the center of the road, and hit a van, causing it to overturn and hit another car.

The two occupants of the stolen car and the two people in the van were injured.

The driver of the stolen car was allegedly Charles Michaels, 15, of Somerville. His passenger was Paul Anderson, 16, also of Somerville. Both were taken to Choate Memorial Hospital in the Reading ambulance.

The car in which they were riding had been stolen in Somerville. It belonged to a woman from Connecticut.

The van which was hit by the stolen car was driven by Gretel A. Lee of Dorchester. She and her passenger, Frank James, were both injured and taken to Winchester Hospital in the Wilmington Fire Department ambulance. Both are employed at Analog Devices on Woburn Street.

A third car in the accident was driven by Richard LaRocque of Lawrence. He told police that he had seen a police cruiser in Lucci's parking lot, and had stopped, just behind the van. The oncoming stolen car hit the van and flipped it over, hitting his car.

Michaels was cited by Wilmington police for endangering and speeding. Charges relating to the stolen car are in the jurisdiction of Somerville authorities.

Future astronauts?

Laura Lee Turner and Paul Indicato went basic training for the future astronauts from Avco. Supervising the flight instruction was Ed Turner.

Avco has a field day

A field day at the Avco recreation facility last Thursday evening was a boost for the Jimmy Fund. More than 2000 Avco employees and their families took part in an evening of fun and games. Admission charges were donated to the Jimmy Fund by Avco Vice President and General Manager John Mahoney. The check was accepted by Bob Montgomery of WITS. The WITS softball team defeated the Avco team, 11 to 6. Cliff and Claff did a broadcast from the field. Other entertainment was provided by carnival rides and the North Star Drum and Bugle Corps.

Silver Lake area

Housing rehab meetings next week

A housing rehabilitation program is set to begin in the Silver Lake area of Wilmington.

The 1980 Neighborhood Rehabilitation Program was created under a federal grant of $245,000 to the town of Wilmington.

Under the program, qualified homeowners in the target area can receive grants of up to $7000 for major repairs on their homes. Depending on age, income levels and family size, homeowners may receive between 25 percent and 100 percent of the cost of the needed work.

The target area is bounded by Route 38 and the railroad tracks, between the Route 129 bridge and the Tewksbury line. Other areas may be eligible in future years, if the town is successful in qualifying for additional federal grants.

Applications for the program will be available on August 12. For homeowners who respond promptly, work could begin in less than two months.

Who has the fastest bed?

That's right, a bed race. Powered by people, hospital beds will be rolling around the Wilmington Common Saturday, August 9 to support the 250th Anniversary Celebration in Wilmington.

This is a competition that will be divided into various categories to establish the best rivalries.

Entrants must have a five-person team - four pushers and one patient. The beds will be decorated during a specific time period immediately prior to the race and paraded around the common with a prize for the best decorated bed.

After the display, the race will begin. The beds will be pushed a short distance (unmade of course) to a location at which the bed will be made and patient placed in the bed. Then, the bed will be pushed another short distance to the finish line, the patient removed, the bed unmade and the team with the fastest time will be the winner.

There is an entry fee of $50 per team. It is rumored that some businesses are sponsoring teams as well as local fraternal organizations. A great time is guaranteed for all those both participating and watching the event.

For more information call Jack Cushing at 658-9100 ext. 443, John Brown at 658-4747 or the 250th headquarters at 657-7717.

Two arrested for kidnapping

Wilmington police arrested two men early Wednesday morning in Woburn in connection with an attack on a young woman.

Arthur G. White, 23, and John P. Laham, 20, both of Dedham, were arrested at Howard Johnson's Restaurant on Route 128 near the Woburn Mall, after they were identified by the victim.

Police were first summoned to the corner of Westdale Avenue and Ayotte Street, shortly after 2:30 a.m. The victim had gone to a house, badly disheveled and with a deep cut on her hand. Nearby, a black Cadillac was parked in the middle of the road.

The woman had been kidnapped in Boston and eventually brought to Wilmington. One of her attackers had wielded a small knife, cutting her hand to the bone in a struggle. The attackers had fled on foot.

A search ensued. A hitchhiker was found near Route 129 on Route 93. He was detained, but was not a suspect.

A serviceman returning to Otis Air Force Base, he had seen the suspects, who fled when they saw his uniform. At 3:30 a.m., Officer Al Venuti found the suspects at Howard Johnson's. He took a position where he could keep them under surveillance.

Sgt. James Palmer directed Inspector Cuoco to bring the victim to the restaurant, to identify the suspects. She had been treated at the Regional Health Center.

Cuoco went to the wrong restaurant - there are two Howard Johnson's in Woburn. When his error was discovered, it was also found that he had a flat tire.

Meanwhile, the suspects were still in booth at the Mishuan Road HoJo's, and Venuti was still watching. Other police were nearby, out of sight of the restaurant.

Police moved in on the suspects at approximately 4 a.m. The woman identified the men as being her attackers. One of them had blood on his pants. Both were arrested on charges of kidnapping, assault and battery with dangerous weapon, larceny of a motor vehicle and assault with intent to rape.

The Cadillac was towed to Cain's garage and held for fingerprinting. There was blood on the outside of it.

The hitchhiker was given state police transportation to his destination. Wilmington police had detained him long enough that he would have been A.W.O.L.

About the same time that the suspects were being arrested, highway department mechanic Ralph Grassia received a telephone call to go change a flat tire in East Woburn.

Officers participating in the search were Sgts. George Shepherd and James Palmer, Insp. Joseph Couco, and Officers Anthony Langone, Al Venuti and Mark Jepson. Officer Bob Vassallo monitored the stolen car.

letters to the editor

Dear Larz:

As a rule you write fair articles in your paper, but I have to take exception to the article in your July 23rd edition regarding the HUD housing.

You stated that the people of the area don't want elderly housing, but you never stated the reason why. The reason the people don't want any housing is mainly because of the water problem which developments have created in this area. Any time during a normal winter, not like the past mild winter, you could ride down Christine Drive or Cypress Street and see we already have a terrific water problem. The taking of the proposed land for housing would mean cutting down most of the trees and there goes the absorption of a lot of water from the area.

Also, if people can read between the lines, once the elderly housing is in and the Housing Authority gets to the regular Town Meeting, we will be forced to take low-moderate housing whether we like it or not. Do you know where the housing would go in with the elderly housing just as the plans call for?

Now, ask yourself and ask all of the elderly - would you want to live in low and moderate income housing? I know that when I reach the age of retirement I don't want to be in an area that is noisy with children. I would want to spend my elderly years in a nice quiet area such as Deming Way where I am away from the noise and most of the hustle of the traffic.

Thank you,
John K. Murphy

Dear Larz:

I usually don't write letters to the editor, but having my name mentioned in last week's edition I felt I must explain my position regarding planned residential development (PRD).

I am a life long resident of the town of Wilmington, and truly do want to preserve the town as I grew up in it. I know that with the pressure of high priced and scarce housing this will be difficult to do. Everyone from the newly married to those ready to retire as well as the elderly need and want a place to call home. Those who want to make that home Wilmington should be able to expect us to try to comply.

For six years, as a member of the Wilmington Planning Board, this has been my objective. Good housing for all, preserving the town's open space, and an adequate tax base. The best zoning tool to accomplish these objectives is PRD. Through zoning it preserves valuable open space, without the town buying it, PRD allows diversified housing for the young and the old, and PRD, as proven in other towns increased the tax revenue to the town (which is not the case with single residential homes).

We all hope for the very best for our children and grandchildren. When my parents get old I hope I will be in the position to help them get by, just as they helped me get by years before. But, if I'm not, where will they go? I can tell you where they will have to go: Nursing Homes!!!

As for the young families just starting out; they can never have the dream of owning their own homes in order to raise a family. Your own

The P.R.D. article which was narrowly defeated in the last annual town meeting had the most stringent controls to preserve our town democratic process, the town meeting. PRD, as proposed, only set up the procedure for a developer to propose such a housing development to the town at a subsequent town meeting.

At which time, if the townspeople wanted and liked the proposal as set forth, the town meeting would then, by a two-thirds vote, rezone that particular parcel of land, for that specific project.

If I were Mr. Borrazzo, I'd give you absolutely nothing and let you work the future problems out for yourself. Take a ride through Deming Way sometime and see the beautiful project that he has worked so hard at maintaining.

At a recent meeting at St. Dorothy's Church, people were afraid that by adopting the enabling zoning article of PRD, they were going to have a housing project built in their neighborhood which they did not want. As outlined early in the letter this is not the case because any specific project would have to be approved by a two-thirds vote.

My remark regarding townspeople wanting PRD was not based on the vocally active people who say no-no-no!! but on those young and old, friends and family who have lived and want to remain in Wilmington.

Sincerely yours,
Lou Maglio, Jr.

This Is Addressed To Those People Who Opposed The New Elderly and Low Income Project at The Meeting Held at St. Dorothy's Church.

I am and have been a resident of Wilmington for many years and will remain one until the day I die.

Wilmington, to me has always been a place to be proud of because of its good, kind and understanding residents. Only after reading the paper on July 23rd, did I find my feelings changed.

Those people who attacked Mr. Borrazzo don't even know what they're talking about. They didn't even know who Mr. Cain was.

We are all put here on this earth for the same reason; To care about others and in turn be cared about. At the risk of losing my temper, it is obvious that there are selfish people in this world, even in Wilmington. If we are to accept this as a fact of life, why then can't we accept the fact that there are also poor people in the world, even in Wilmington.

We all hope for the very best for our children and grandchildren. When my parents get old I hope I will be in the position to help them get by, just as they helped me get by years before. But, if I'm not, where will they go? I can tell you where they will have to go: Nursing Homes!!!

Surely your kindness and generosity will always be remembered by Louise.

Barrett seeks to reconvene Legislature

State Rep. Mike Barrett wants the Legislature to come back into session this September, in order to take final action on a number of constitutional amendments left hanging when the House and Senate went home in July.

"I support some of these proposals and oppose others," Barrett says, "but this isn't the point. The Constitution itself requires us to take 'final legislative action' on each particular amendment, and so far we haven't done so."

Among the amendments involved are those enacting the death penalty, abolishing county government, enacting "Proposition 2½," and abolishing the Governor's Council.

In a letter to Mr. Wallace Mills, parliamentary officer in the House of Representatives, Barrett says that he was among those who voted to adjourn the constitutional session early, an action which seemed reasonable at the time, before attention had been focused on the laws governing amendments.

"I realize that this point did not emerge in debate during the July session," Barrett writes. "I also realize that bringing the General Court back into session is a major project, to say the least. But we have to take this step. We owe it to those voters who signed initiative petitions to trigger the amendment process, even if we disagree with the amendments themselves."

"A larger issue is at stake here," Barrett continues. "The Legislature brings disrespect upon itself too often as it is; we flout democratic procedures, mock the idea of 'deliberating' on bills by meeting all night and to the point of exhaustion, and disregard our own parliamentary rules at frequent turns."

"We have now come to the point of disregarding the Massachusetts Constitution itself. Perhaps the Legislature needs a dose of the 'law and order' it prescribes so readily to everyone else, and the lawful and orderly course is to come back into session on September 12."

Riddle North MVP

South Stars pound North

The South All-Stars pounded the North 10-3 in Middle Essex Girls Softball League action Friday at Ginn Field in Winchester. Local girls in the game were Tewksbury Teddies Kathy Carey, Missi Riddle, Robin Riddle and Laura Briggs, and Wilmington Recs Megan Donnelly, Karen Evans, Eileen Woods and Mary Beth Gentile.

The local girls played on the losing North squad with other All-Stars from Billerica, Andover and Winchester. The South All-Stars featured players from Woburn, Wakefield, Burlington, North Reading and Stoneham.

Tewksbury's Missi Riddle was named the MVP for the North squad, while Beverly Toland garnered that award for the winning South team.

Route Stoneham, 10-4

Teddies finally win

The wait was a long one, but it might just have been worth it. After a summer of alternately taking it on the chin and losing the close games, coach Joe Barry's Tewksbury Teddies girls softball team finally chalked up a victory last week with an impressive 10-4 romp past Stoneham.

Missi Riddle sparked the attack with a four for four game and Robin Riddle contributed three more hits to the Tewksbury cause. Laura Briggs banged a single and a double and Kathy Carey, Sukie Hunter, Joanne Bolton and Chris Kiernan all rapped singles. Eileen Griffin helped the cause, drawing five walks. Tewksbury's defense was solid throughout, turning two doubleplays. A summary of other recent Teddy action:

Billerica 10-Tewksbury 6

The bats were booming, but errors and walks hurt the cause. Laura Briggs powered a homerun, while Missi Riddle stuck in two singles to lead the way. Marianne Bolton, Kathy Carey and Linda Barry helped with singles for Tewksbury.

Tewksbury had jumped out to a 5-1 lead until the roof caved in around losing pitcher Robin Riddle in the fourth inning. The Marianne Bolton-Missi Riddle-Kathy Carey trio combined for a nifty doubleplay.

Tewksbury Youth Baseball

Orioles chalk up fifth title

Ron Isabelle's Orioles captured the Tewksbury American Little League championship for the fifth year in a row, defeating the Yankees 6-5 Monday night before a huge crowd.

Second baseman Pat Brooks snatched a sharp ground ball hit up the middle with the tying run on third base, throwing the runner out at first to retire the side in the important seventh inning that clinched another Oriole title.

Todd Boudreau took the victory, pitching six innings, striking out four and walking four on two hits. Scott Hillson relieved Boudreau in the seventh, giving up three hits.

Pat Brooks took plate honors, going three for four, including a double. Scott Hillson and Chuck Coughlin belted RBI doubles, and Joey Vecchi added a single with two RBI's. Robbie Stevens, Boudreau, Richard Sweeney and Sean Derrah chipped in with solo hits, and Jimmy Judge contributed a double. Greg Park hammered a single with an RBI.

The Yankees took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first as Vociello reached first on an error, Bill Krzesinski walked, Joe Evangelista walked and Vociello scored on a wild pitch.

The Orioles came back with four runs in the top of the second. Brooks singled, the next batter struck out and Coughlin doubled Brooks home. Muise grounded out, moving Coughlin to third before Parke singled to score Coughlin. Vecchi singled in another run and advanced to second on the throw, later scoring on Boudreau's hit.

The Yankees scored two runs in the bottom of the second. After two outs, Sordillo whacked a double, Coville was hit by a pitch and G. Koleleski singled in both runners.

Another Youth Baseball championship game is on tap Sunday afternoon in Tewksbury when the American League champion Orioles take on the National League kingpin Red Sox is a 2 p.m. game at East Street's Poulin Field.

The Red Sox, coached by Fred Doherty, have won the National League crown for the past three years, while the Orioles, under coach Ron Isabelle, have been the American League champs for five consecutive summers.

North Reading tops Recs

Mary Rose fired a two-hitter, but errors and a couple of mental lapses paved the way for a 5-2 North Reading win over Wilmington in Junior Rec girls softball action last week.

Bright spots for the Wilmington Recs was a double and a fine play at firstbase by Maureen Roche and baserunner by Mary Linehan, Karen Evans and Megan Donnelly.

Wilmington Pop Warner registration

Wilmington Pop Warner football will hold registration for the upcoming 1980 season with sign-ups scheduled for Monday, August 4 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the High School field. The Pop Warner Board of Directors cordially invites all youngsters from eight to 14 years of age, including all Wilmington Little Leaguers currently concluding play in the 1980 baseball season, to join in a fun-filled, memorable season of gridiron play. There will be three Intertown teams, the A, B and C Chargers, competing in league play, which will be highlighted by seven home games this year, as well as a post season bowl game to be played this November in Westchester County, New York. There will also be the D Instructional teams for newcomers, which will be playing teams from the towns of Dracut, Sudbury and Methuen in the Intramural Program during the season.

The cost to join in the fun for the upcoming season is $15.00 per youngster, or $25.00 per family. All Pop Warner board members and coaches will be available at the time of registration to answer all questions concerning the Pop Warner Football Program for the 1980 season.

Tewksbury Pop Warner sign-up

Tewksbury Pop Warner Football opens its 1980 season Friday, August 1 at 6 p.m. at Hazel Field on Livingston Street. Due to the heavy registration during May, Friday will be the last sign-up day for this season. All boys must register, even if they played on a team last season. Uniforms and equipment are provided at no cost to the boy except for personal items. There is no registration fee.

All boys who register at the field should be accompanied by a parent or guardian and have a copy of their birth certificate for proof of age. To be eligible for this program, a boy must have been born on or before August 1, 1966, and December 31, 1971. Boys will be assigned to teams according to age and weight limits.

In addition to the above ages, Pop Warner National will allow 14-year-olds born on or between January 1, 1966 and July 31, 1966 who weigh approximately 110 pounds or less, to play on traveling A teams. Also, 13-year-olds born on or between January 1, 1967 and July 31, 1967 who weigh approximately 99 pounds or less can now play on traveling B teams.

The maximum weight limit for the A team is now 130 pounds and the B team limit is 115 pounds, as pertains to the regular 12 and 13-year-olds.

Pop Warner will attempt to expand this year, but as is the case with all youth programs they need more adult help. Parents who would like to volunteer in one of the following capacities are asked to sign up at the refreshment stand at Hazel Field August 1.

The following help is needed - assistant coaches, In-Town League referees, chain crews for the games, equipment managers for the various teams and booster help to work in the refreshment stand.

Boys are asked to follow the following format when they arrive at the field on Friday evening. The boys who have already registered should report to the bleachers and take a seat. Boys registering that night should report to the refreshment stand at Hazel Field and be signed-in. This will help to expedite the start of practice. The boys should wear T shirts, shorts and sneakers to the practice. The rain date is August 4, same time and place.

Masonic Gang slaps Compugraphic, 24-17

Two teams played bash till you can't bash anymore in Wilmington Men's Recreation Softball League action Monday night at Town Park. The Masonic Gang slapped out 22 singles and scored 14 runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to down a scrappy Compugraphic club 24-17 in one of the wildest games played so far this summer.

Compugraphic, winners of just one game thus far, took a 6-0 lead in the second inning, but losing pitcher Walter Welding couldn't stand prosperity, bowing to the Masonic Gang's singles onslaught.

Rich Giardano, Steve Whalen and Jack Nickerson had three hits apiece for the winners, while Ray Boutin, Rick Koenig and Ralph Perotta banged out four hits each for Compugraphic. John O'Melia held on to pitch the win for the Masonic Gang.

In other action Monday night, Wally Neal pitched a four-hitter as Rocco's, fresh off an excellent series of games in the State Qualifying Tournament, edged McNamara Tire 5-4.

Gene Baldwin rapped two hits for the winners, while Bob Aprile and Dana Mullarky had RBI doubles. Bob Frongillo sparked the McNamara Tire attack with a three run homer and Ken Morse contributed a triple. Jim Coolidge pitched a fine game in defeat.

A summary of other action last week:

Sunday, July 27

D&D Gulf 14-Sons of Italy

Bill Swan went four for four with three RBI's and Peter Swan ripped a single and a triple to spark the Gulf attack that backed winning hurler Roy Meyer. Rick Nickerson and Nino Trimarchi were next in line for the winners with two hits apiece.

Dale Porter clubbed three hits in support of losing pitcher Jim Diotelle.

Nash Realty 9-Doyle's Hardware 7
Dick Gillis, Paul O'Donnell and Bernie Wagstaff all slapped two hits for Nash as O'Donnell pitched the win.

Paul Lyman wielded the big bat for Asianis with three hits and five RBI's,
